

Last and Final Abstract Extension Deadline: 8 February!

An overwhelming response was received to the last abstract extension for ICI 2016, so the abstract submission deadline has now been extended by one more week, for the very last time, until Monday 8 February 2016.

This is the final chance to submit your abstract for consideration as an oral or poster presentation in the inspiring ICI 2016 program. Don't miss the opportunity to present your latest research at the largest meeting in the field of immunology.

Abstracts received after Monday 8 February 2016 will not be accepted. Visit the website to view detailed information on abstract preparation and submission.

Travel Grant Opportunities to Assist Participation at ICI 2016

A number of travel grants are on offer to facilitate delegate attendance at ICI 2016 and you might be eligible to apply.

Travel grants for immunologists from developing countries are on offer from the American Association of Immunologists (AAI), BioLegend and Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation (BMGF). To make it simple, applicants can apply through a single online application form.

In addition, the organisations below are delighted to offer their own travel grants to assist in attending ICI 2016:

- The Australasian Society for Immunology (ASI)
- The American Association of Immunologists (AAI)

- The British Society for Immunology (BSI)
- The Federation of Immunological Societies of Asia-Oceania (FIMSA)
- The European Federation of Immunological Societies (EFIS) / European Journal of Immunology (EJI)

Remember that submission of an abstract before 8 February 2016 is required to apply for all travel grants. Visit www.ici2016.org/travel-grants/ for further details as eligibility criteria and application closing dates varies.

Sponsorship Opportunities

The main theme for ICI 2016 is “Immunotherapy: Harnessing the Power of the Immune System”. This is a timely motto, as we witness the emergence of amazing new immunotherapeutic strategies revolutionising the treatment of cancer, autoimmunity, allergy and immune deficiencies and transplant outcomes. These are exciting times for immunologists, and the ICI 2016 will provide the perfect stage for sponsors and exhibitors to directly connect with an audience of this caliber.
